Matusow Claims McCarthy Encouraged False Statements

Ex-Red Gives Testimony At Court Hearing

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—Harvey Matusow testified today he made false statements in the 1952 political campaign with encouragement from Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Matusow, self-described professional ex-Communist and former informer for the FBI, testified at a Federal Court hearing on a motion by 12 convicted Communists for a new trial.

Their action is based on affidavits by Matusow that he gave false evidence against them, with the knowledge of Roy M. Cohn, then an assistant U.S. attorney, at their trial on conspiracy charges.

Matusow first testified today he had sent affidavits to the New York Times and to Time magazine saying he had lied in saying they had Communists on their staffs.

He said his original statements were based on "conjecture and surmise." Then he added that he had made similar false statements in the 1952 political campaign.

"My manner of presentation and my theme was encouraged by Sen. Joseph McCarthy and, in fact, was at the behest of McCarthy and made during the heat of a political campaign," Matusow said.

Matusow said he met Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam in Washington and told him: "I want to apologize for a speech I made against you Oct. 5, 1952, in a Methodist church in Libertyville, Ill."

Matusow said he had accused the bishop in the speech of "supporting Communist fronts."

Earlier an excerpt read from Matusow's diary, dated Jan. 1, 1948, said he had decided the Communist party was "a reactionary outfit" and that he should break out to be false.

The United States, he said today in clarification, will decide whether the off-shore islands are to be treated as essential to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

A special federal grand jury meanwhile is investigating the disparity between Matusow's testimony at the Communists' trial and his later statements.

West Watches Meeting Of Chinese Reds

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—An other top Communist meeting has been taking place that's been closely watched by Western authorities.

The Standing Committee of the Chinese Communist National People's Congress, supreme legislative body of Red China, has been meeting in Peiping, but has been obscured by the sensational developments at the Supreme Soviet in Moscow.

However, while the Chinese Communist Congress has gone unnoticed by the public, it has been intensely scrutinized by Allied experts. They are particularly interested in indications of dissension among the Peiping rulers, especially against Premier Chou En-lai.

Mao Tse-tung is reported suffering from incurable cancer. For months, he has been completely in the background. Throughout the turmoil over Formosa, Chou En-lai has done virtually all the talking on this explosive issue. Recently there have been reports from Peiping sources that Chou's prominence is arousing antipathies against him inside the politburo.

This 12-member body is the inner ruling caste of Red China. Mao Tse-tung is the chairman, and Liu Shao-chi is deputy chairman. Other key members are Chou, and General Chu Teh, top military leader and a reputed rival of Chou.

Liu and Chou have been at odds. Liu is Moscow-trained; Chou is not. Liu is credited with favoring Kremlin policies, while Chou advocates a more independent course. On that, he has had the backing of Mao.

In recent months, with the Army playing an increasingly prominent role, a group of younger generals have come to the front.

Arson Ruled Out

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 11 (AP)—Fire Chief William S. McFadden definitely ruled out any possibility of arson today in an apartment fire which claimed the lives of four youngsters under 5, children of Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart.

Train Piles Into Washout; Nobody Seriously Injured; 20 Hurt In Minnesota Wreck

AUGUSTA, Maine, Feb. 11 (AP)—A crack Maine Central Railroad passenger train plowed into a washout on a desolate stretch of tracks in a driving rainstorm tonight, but none of the passengers in six coaches was reported badly injured. Police reported they had "gone through the coaches, and nobody appears to be badly hurt." A newsman at the scene said there were about 145 persons on the train.

SAUK CENTRE, Minn., Feb. 11 (AP)—At least 20 persons were reported injured tonight when the Western Star, Seattle-Chicago passenger train of the Great Northern Railway, derailed near West Union, 10 miles northwest of here. None of them was reported seriously hurt.

All 12 cars of the passenger train were derailed but the two-unit Diesel locomotive remained on the zigzag pattern.

Chinese Nationalist Official Denies U.S. Definitely Pledged To Defend Quemoy And Matsus

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—A bitter tempest of words subsided somewhat today after Chinese Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh backed away from any claim that the United States is pledged specifically to defend Quemoy and the Matsus.

Remarks Yeh made yesterday, after a call on Secretary of State Dulles, were interpreted as a hint that he had obtained a U.S. commitment to defend Quemoy, the Matsus and other off-shore islands now occupied by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

Newsmen understood him to say that a U.S. pledge to protect positions deemed necessary for the defense of Formosa "of course includes Quemoy and the Matsus."

SEN. MORSE (Ind-Ore.) told the Senate he did not believe Yeh. He said Yeh "ought to be repudiated" if his remarks of yesterday turned out to be false.

The foreign minister, about to go home to Formosa, told reporters today he never intended to leave the impression, when questioned by newsmen yesterday, that he had a pledge.

The United States, he said today in clarification, will decide whether the off-shore islands are to be treated as essential to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Neither the defend-Formosa resolution, passed by Congress last month, nor the U.S.-Formosa mutual defense treaty, approved by the Senate Wednesday, names any territory other than Formosa and the Pescadores.

But the resolution states that Eisenhower may use U.S. military power to defend "related positions"—in other words, off-shore islands—if he deems them necessary for the ultimate defense of Formosa.

The Council took up the Formosan situation Jan. 21 and issued the invitation for Premier Chou En-lai of Red China to send a representative to the Council.

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 11 (AP)—The Aga Khan was seriously ill here tonight with an apparent recurrence of influenza. His beautiful wife said he may have to pass up the twice-postponed African part of his "platinum" weighing ceremony, now set for Feb. 20.

The heir apparent to the 77-year-old spiritual leader of the Ismaili Moslem sect in Asia and Africa is Prince Aly Khan, divorced husband of actress Rita Hayworth.

In the annual weighing of the portly Aga, his followers symbolically match his weight with its value in a specified gem or precious metal, and the proceeds go to Moslem charities.

Then something startling happened. A great earthquake rocked the prison to its foundations. The fastenings flew off the doors which were opened. The jailer awakened, rushed to the prison with sword in hand, thinking his prisoners had escaped, and ready to kill himself because his life would be forfeited anyhow as punishment for the loss of his charges.

Paul called to him not to harm himself, as they were all there.

Then this Roman jailer had his rebirth. Perhaps he had heard the prayers and singing. He brought a light, and "fell down before Paul and Silas," saying, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" And they said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house." He spoke unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house."

Then he took them "and washed their stripes and was baptized, he and all his." And he set food before them and "rejoiced, believing in God."

"Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things have passed away; behold, all things are become new."

When you accept Christ, as this jailer did, you are new, even if you have been a deep sinner, even a criminal. You begin to live as nearly as possible as Christ would have you.

If faced with a problem, you ask God what He would have you

MILDRED BANKS, student nurse at the Chester County Hospital, West Chester, is spending a brief vacation at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ralph Banks, Panther. Miss Banks has completed the probationary period of her training and was "capped" at ceremonies in his life. He knew of Jesus and evidently admired Him, and so he came secretly, at night to talk with him.

Nicodemus addressed the Master courteously, saying: "Rabbi, we know that Thou art a teacher come from God; for no man can do these miracles that Thou dost, except God be with him."

Jesus' answer puzzled him. For He said that "except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God."

The Bible class of the Moravian

Paul and Silas set foot for the first time in Europe, in the Greek city of Philippi. Because a girl possessed peculiar powers of prophecy, by which her masters made a good deal of money, but was freed of the evil spirit by Paul, the masters turned the whole town against him.

They were brought before the magistrates, who had them beaten and thrown into prison. Not only were they deprived of their freedom, but they were further humiliated by having their feet put in the stocks. The jailer was also given strict orders to keep them there safely.

How would you feel if when you had committed no crime, but only good, you found yourself badly beaten and thrown into jail with your feet in the stocks, or chained, with your wounds untreated, not even washed clean?

The two apostles did not act as we might have done under those circumstances. At midnight they prayed and sang hymns of praise to God. The other prisoners present, used to cursing or brawling listened astonished, we may suppose.

Then something startling happened. A great earthquake rocked the prison to its foundations. The fastenings flew off the doors which were opened. "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things have passed away; behold, all things are become new."

When you accept Christ, as this jailer did, you are new, even if you have been a deep sinner, even a criminal. You begin to live as nearly as possible as Christ would have you.

If faced with a problem, you ask God what He would have you

Some men are remembered for their deeds . . . the battles they won and the prizes they gained. But not A. Lincoln!

Men still call him "honest Abe," and they take courage in his humility. Men honor his devotion to the principles for which he stood; they esteem his love for humanity; they marvel at his capacities for sympathy, understanding and forgiveness.

History has known few men whose memory could survive the hatreds of war and find sanctuary in the hearts of victor and vanquished alike. But Abe Lincoln belongs to all of America. Christian nobility is revered for itself, whether it wore blue or gray.

As the character of a man can bind up the wounds of a nation, so the Christian faith which moulded Abe Lincoln can build under God a world of peace and understanding. To that proposition our Churches are dedicated.

For Younger Voters

Another step has been taken in the effort to permit 18-year-olds to vote, with introduction of a proposed constitutional amendment in the House of Representatives, sponsored by Dauphin county's four Republican members.

In order for such an amendment to be voted upon by the electorate, it would have to pass the General Assembly in its present session and again in 1957 before it could be presented to the people for final approval or disapproval.

President Eisenhower and a great many other leaders of national thought have expressed the belief that young men and women who have attained their 18th birthdays should be allowed to vote. In the opinion of many, if a youth is old enough to be drafted into the military service of his country, he is old enough to be entrusted with the ballot.

We are in full agreement with this point of view, and hope that the Pennsylvania legislature will take affirmative action on the measure co-sponsored by Reps. Ogilvie, Ziegler, Hocker and Moody, and that the legislature convening two years from now will take similar action in order that the great mass of voters in our commonwealth be given opportunity to indicate their own beliefs on the question.

In these days of full educational opportunities for the youngest generation in this and most other states, there is every reason to believe that the boys and girls of our country are capable of thoughtful selection in exercising the right of suffrage.

If we are to have adequate leaders for the future, it would seem to be imperative that we allow them the responsibilities inherent in full citizenship.

Let's have the vote for the 18-year-olds.

Defense Manpower

In light of the critical international situation which gives no indication of immediate solution, it is imperative that our Congress take a more realistic view of the military manpower problems and, with the backing of all thoughtful Americans, take necessary action to add required strength to our defensive planning.

Secretary of Defense Wilson in a recent appearance before the House Armed Services Committee, evidenced his concern over the manpower situation in all elements of the Department of Defense, and especially with the wastefully inefficient turnover of personnel.

It is manifestly absurd, he believes, for our country to spend billions of dollars in procurement of modern weapons and in training young men to operate these weapons if, after a brief period of service, these men return to civil life and thus make it necessary to train replacements for the same tasks.

The incredible rate of turnover in all of the armed services presents a dark picture for the American taxpayer, not only from the point of view of adequate defense but from that of economic waste. Huge sums are appropriated for this purpose, far in excess of the amounts required were it possible to persuade more of our men to adopt the services for their careers.

More than that, it is additionally inefficient and wasteful to release officers and men through resignation or transfer to inactive duty without a mandatory provision for their participation in the reserve program.

S ummed up, we are dissipating our trained manpower at a time when the aid of every man is required in building adequate national defense.

Power Of Communist Party In Russia Transcends Power Of Soviet State

As in the rise of Stalin, so in the emergence of Khrushchev, the power of the Communist Party in Soviet Russia transcends the power of the State. The error that is often made in America is that we assume that the Russian government is supreme in that country, whereas as a matter of Marxist procedure it is the Party which speaks for the dictatorship of the proletariat and therefore the Party is the master.

When Stalin died, the government was placed under the collective leadership of three appointed by the Party, that is, Malenkov, Beria and Molotov. Beria was killed; Molotov was reduced to a mouthpiece. Malenkov, however, never knew supreme power. He divided his authority, under Democratic Centralism, with Khrushchev who had become First Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party. Now Khrushchev divides his authority with another.

From now on orthodox Stalinism will prevail. This means that those who decide in thought and action will find no place in the Soviet government or the Communist Party. A. Philip wrote of this attitude:

" . . . During the early 1930's Stalin ordered the full exposure of 'everything irreconcilable with Bolshevism,' such as its 'falsification,' 'contraband Trotskyism,' 'corrupt liberalism,' and called for 'revolutionary vigilance.' Until

The Hand And Pen
Abraham Lincoln, his hand and pen, He will be good, but Lord knows when."

The tall, ungainly boy in the backwoods schoolhouse had scribbled it on a piece of paper and shown it to a schoolmate. It would be an historic rhyme, quoted through the generations, but no one would have guessed it then.

"It's a rhyme," said young Abe, as the other boy read it. "I can rhyme better'n you," said the schoolmate. "You can't." "I can so."

The schoolmaster's approach ended the exchange. "What's going on?" he asked, snatching the paper. He read it, half aloud, to the laughter of the room . . . "Abraham Lincoln, his hand and pen, he will be good but Lord knows when."

"Never mind scrawlin' foolish things about your hand and pen," said the schoolmaster. "They can be better occupied. No more nonsense!"

The boy was to repeat the lines in a school exercise book destined to be preserved for the ages. Foolish words? How wrong! This was the hand that was to guide the ship of state through raging waters, to plot the course in perilous seas, to draw up momentous orders and counterorders, to point the way and signal the warnings. This was the hand that was to write the Emancipation Proclamation, approve the peace, comfort mothers of slain sons.

"His hand and pen . . . The pen was to scrawl the immortal Gettysburg Address . . . From it was to pour the words 'Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a nation conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal . . . But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground.'

Long Labor Peace Era May End This Spring

Washington — President Eisenhower in his two years in office has enjoyed a consistent record of labor peace insofar as strikes are concerned. However, the millpond atmosphere may be disrupted this spring when CIO President Walter Reuther begins negotiations to get underway in April.

Reuther has bluntly announced that he will demand that the Auto Workers union, which he also heads, be given a guaranteed annual wage and has implied that he will not be averse to strike action if his proposals are rebuffed.

Negotiators for the industry have maintained a discreet silence on the proposals that their workers be assured of a guaranteed income each year.

It is doubtful if the President could invoke the Taft-Hartley injunction provisions to halt an auto strike because such a move in the courts must establish that a strike would constitute a national emergency.

On the other hand, the nation's economy is geared closely to the general health of the auto industry, where competition has waxed fiercer and fiercer in recent years. A prolonged auto strike could cause Mr. Eisenhower and his advisors completely to rework their hopes for a flourishing and prosperous year in the United States for management and labor alike.

Red Strategy — Diplomatic officials in Washington believe they have found a hint of the Communist world's strategy in the contrasting attitude between Red China and Russia on the issue of paled Americans. While Russia recently freed three American citizens who had been held for years, Communist China has refused to release imprisoned American flyers and even has exploited them for propaganda reasons.

Russia's conciliatory attitude compared with China's war-like stand at first puzzled the State department, but officials now believe they have found the answer. Their opinion is that the Communist bloc has decided to intensify its drive in the Far East rather than in Europe. Despite protests about German re-armament, the Reds have been unusually quiet in Europe.

On the other hand, Red China—undoubtedly with the Soviet Union's backing—has turned the Far East into a powderkeg with its provocative actions.

The Communists apparently believe they now have a better chance of success among Asia's millions than in any of the free nations of Europe, and thus, are concentrating on the Far East for propaganda purposes.

Two Rose Woods — Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon have something in common. Each has a Rose Woods as an aid.

Nixon's is his secretary. Mrs. Eisenhower's is a personal maid who has been with the First Lady since before the Eisenhowers came to the White House. To prevent confusion, Nixon's Rose Woods now generally says: "This is Rose Mary Woods calling" when she telephones the White House.

Erich Remarque, author of "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "Arch of Triumph," tells about a cousin of the same name who paced a hospital corridor awaiting the arrival of his first-born. A nurse finally ended his anxiety by informing him he was the father of an eight-pound boy. A few moments later she was back to say, "You now have another son." The father had not been expecting twins. He stammered, "That—that last telephone call was un-uncalled for!"

Three Rookie Senators Have Their Own Session

Washington — Three Senate rookies had themselves quite a time while most of their "elders" were absent from the chamber.

Senator George Bender, Republican newcomer from Ohio, and Senator Richard Neuberger, freshman from Oregon, argued stoutly over policy on the Formosa crisis. Bender was for it; Neuberger against. Both spoke with great heat, but with little light.

Demanded Neuberger, "I should like to ask the Senator, inasmuch as he is, at least temporarily, spokesman for the Administration of the Majority Leader of the Senate, what is the policy of the Administration in the event there should be further communist aggression in Indochina?"

Replied Bender forcefully, "I think the Administration does not propose to do anything."

"That is a program or policy," contended Bender, "to which we are not committed, as we are in the Formosa situation."

At this point the third rookie entered the picture, Senator Pat McNamara (D., Mich.), who has yet to say anything at all in the Senate, was acting as presiding officer. The former city councilman of Detroit, apparently, was not impressed by the discussion of his two freshsmen colleagues. So he decided to end it—and did.

Without waiting for the customary motion, McNamara rapped the gavel and announced, "If there is no further business before the Senate, the Senate now stands adjourned." And that did it.

Flashes — Ruth B. Shipley, veteran director of the State Department's passport office, is headed for retirement. Senate Foreign Relations Committee members have received inside word that Mrs. Shipley, on occasions a controversial official, will be replaced by an assistant of Scott McLeod, even more controversial security chief of the State Department . . . Representative Francis Walter (D., Pa.), new chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, has ordered a cut in the pay of its staff members. Committee members are saying that one purpose of the reduction is to get rid of certain staff holdovers . . . Secretary of State Dulles is sounding out Britain and France on holding a "Big Three" foreign ministers conference on Far East problems before the SEATO parley in Bangkok late this month . . . Former Communist Harvey Matusow is due to be asked some particularly pointed questions by Senator Jackson (D., Wash.). Matusow campaigned against him in 1952, and Jackson is telling colleagues, "I have information that Republican office-holders paid Matusow $300 to oppose me. I'm going to put him under oath and ask him whether that is correct. In fact, we propose to get the full story of Matusow's campaign funds and where he got them. The ex-Red appears to be headed for a busy time on Capitol Hill. He is scheduled to be interrogated by at least three committees — Senate Internal Security, Senate Investigating, and House Un-American Activities Committee.

Note — One expert on Russia rates new Premier Bulganin well. The authority is General W. Bedell Smith, former Undersecretary of State, Ambassador to Moscow, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, and wartime chief of staff of President Eisenhower when he commanded SHAFF. Smith wrote regarding Bulganin, in an unpublished report shortly before retiring to private life last year, "He is an able administrator and executive, and an exceptionally effective speaker. He is reasonable, intelligent, and was courteous to me, but he is known as strongly anti-American."

Governor Averell Harriman, who met Bulganin during World War II, reported the Soviet leader once cited a U. S. officer of the Persian Gulf Command for expressing the hope that President Roosevelt would be defeated in the 1944 election. When Harriman replied the officer was within his political rights, Bulganin appeared astounded and later told another American official, "This man Harriman must also be one of the anti-Roosevelt conspirators."

Trucking Industry Is Basic

—by H. G. Heller

The battle for increased truck weights is certain to break loose soon in the Pennsylvania Legislature—a battle which was won handily by the truckers of Monroe County and the remainder of the State during the administration of former Gov. John S. Fine only to be lost by a sudden veto by the then Governor.

The truckers have already started their drive with the assertion that the state's 15,000-pound gross weight limit for tandem-axle tractor semi-trailers "has raised an invisible Chinese wall around the state. All states surrounding Pennsylvania now allow 60,000 pound loads—some 65,000—pounds, showing that some facet of Pennsylvania business suffers a loss of 15,000 pounds payload every time a truck leaves a loading dock.

Let's take a look at the trucking industry. It has over $2 billion dollars invested in Pennsylvania operations

Fine's Name Dropped From GOP State Executive Council

Scott Added; Rebuilding Of Party Sought

HARRISBURG, Feb. 11 (P)—Former Gov. John S. Fine was removed today from the Republican State Executive Council.

A new 32-member committee named by Miles Horst, GOP state chairman, failed to list Fine's name but included such GOP leaders as Sen. James H. Duff and G. Mason Owlett, GOP national committee man.

New appointees to the committee include Senator William Z. Scott of Lansford, who represents Monroe, Carbon, Pike and Wayne Counties.

"These Republican from every section of Pennsylvania, every level of the Republican party, will work with me and other party leaders in rebuilding a stronger Republican party than ever before," said Horst.

Asked specifically why Fine was not reappointed, the GOP state chairman said:

"The only comment I have is that I tried to develop a working committee. Gov. Fine served on the previous committee by virtue of his office."

Fine, who left office less than a month ago, parted with a political admonition that the GOP must be infused with new faces and ideas. He also said he expected to play a part in forming Republican policy.

The ex-governor was not available for comment.

Twenty members of the old committee were dropped, including Fine, in a move to revitalize the Republican party in Pennsylvania after "last November's stunning election defeat."

Horst has promised that the new unit will be "a working committee." The previous committee never had a meeting and this fact was pointed up when Saguel S. Lewis, secretary of forests and waters in Fine's cabinet, commented:

"Dropped from the committee? I never even knew that I was on the committee."

Meanwhile, two county leaders—Andrew J. Gleason, Johnstown, and Kenneth F. Kressler, Easton—refused to discuss further their previous demand that Owlett be dropped from the committee.

Both blamed Owlett for a big role in the GOP defeat last year. But Owlett himself said:

"On the whole, I think it's a very good executive committee."

Gleason and Kressler, both of whom were reappointed to the executive committee, have long been associated with Duff who in turn is a factional foe of Owlett.

Although Horst saw fit to drop Fine from the executive unit, he named former Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, Collegeville, defeated 1954 GOP gubernatorial candidate, to the committee.

Other new appointees were Congressman Ivor D. Fenton, Mahanoy City, chairman of the GOP congressional delegation; Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Titusville, Senate Republican leader; Rep. Charles C. Smith, Philadelphia, House Republican leader; William H. Worrell Sr., Republican state finance chairman.

Mrs. William M. Rosenfield, Towa, president of the State Council of GOP Women; Mrs. Jessie Vann, Pittsburgh; Rep. Robert F. Kent (R—Crawford); Arthur C. Throne, Glenrobert; William K. Urech, Clearfield; Samuel F. Bonavita, Warren, president of the Federation of Young Republican Clubs; Thomas E. Whitten, Pittsburgh; Robert C. Duff, Philadelphia; Carl D. Butler, Hollidaysburg; Sen. William Z. Scott (R—Carbon), and A. Bahner Portzline, Selinsgrove.

Holdover included Horst, Owlett, Gleason, Kressler, Sen. Edward Martin, Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Senate president pro tempore; Mrs. Kathryn Murdoch, Greensburg, Republican national committeewoman; Mrs. Sara G. Leffler, Lebanon, Republican state vice chairman; Mrs. Hannah M. Durham, Allentown.

State Treasurer Weldon B. Heyburn, Concordville; Auditor General Charles R. Barber, Erie; William S. Livingood Jr., Somersett, outgoing secretary of internal affairs; Sen. G. Graybill Diehm (R—Lancaster), Austin Mehan, Philadelphia, and G. Harold Watkins, Franklin.

Dropped from the committee were Fine, Lewis, William J. Hamilton Jr., Philadelphia; William Baird, Cambridge Springs; Samuel A. Breene, Oil City; Mrs. Adelaide Conly, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, Brookline; Olin W. Evans, Wilkes-Barre; Frederic D. Garman, Philadelphia; the late C. W. Good, Lancaster; Mrs. George R. Hemphill, Beaver Falls.

Frank C. Hilton, Womelsdorf; Elder Marshall, Pittsburgh; Orus J. Matthews, Philadelphia; William J. Morrow, Philadelphia; Frederick C. Peters, Norristown; E. Washington Rhodes, Philadelphia; Kenelm L. Shirk Jr., Lancaster; Mrs. Helen M. Schlaffrau, Erie; James F. Torrance, Export.

Bogart, William, of Bushkill, Friday, Feb. 11, aged 67 years, 3 months, 1 day. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend funeral services to be announced by Lanterman.

HIT TWICE in a six car melee caused by freezing rain at an underpass on Route 611 just south of Port Jervis, this car owned by Thomas Mitchell, Cresco, was unharmed the first time, but wound up with a stowed-in rear trunk the second time it was hit.

Six Vehicles Are Involved In Series Of Collisions

PORLTAND—Six motor vehicles became snarled in a series of collisions in the space of a few minutes and all occurred at or under the Route 611 underpass near here at the new Delaware River Bridge.

According to Chief of Police Jesse Felker, this is what occurred:

Thomas Mitchell, Cresco, operating a 1949 model car, found his car in a skid as he started down the grade of the underpass. The Mitchell car was hit in the rear by a skidding 1952 auto operated by Mrs. Isabelle Broad, Bangor, RD.

Both vehicles had been traveling north and wound up on the right side of the highway when a car operated by Charles Roderick, Blakewood, Cal. hit the same ice and started to skid.

Roderick's auto struck the bank on the left side of the road, upset and came to rest on its top.

Charles Zeman, of nearby Middle Village, came along in his auto, parked on the right side of Route 611 and aided Roderick from his car.

Zeman loaded Roderick in his car with the intention of taking him to a physician for examination.

About that time a tractor trailer operated by Jacob Basely, Stroudsburg, struck the ice, skidded and struck a car operated by Leslie Buzzard, Columbia, N. J.

Buzzard's car struck the Mitchell car and drove it against Zerman's automobile. Zeman was able to proceed after the crash.

Police of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission arrived with Felker and aided in untangling a mass of jammed traffic.

Roderick, after a check by a physician, boarded a bus and continued his journey.

Chief Felker was unable to estimate total damages.

Close Ranks, Duff Urges Republicans

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 11 (P)—Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa) called on Republicans tonight "to quit crying the blues" and close ranks for the 1955 municipal and 1956 presidential election campaigns.

"That is my formula for a Republican victory," he said. "I am sure it is a good one. To anyone inquiring what is to be done in Pennsylvania, my answer is that it is."

In a speech at a Lincoln Day Dinner, Duff said he doesn't share the attitude of those in the GOP who are ready "to throw in the sponge" after the 1954 Democratic victory.

Although the statewide ticket lost last year's election by the landslide proportion of more than 280,000, an examination of the results in congressional elections shows an overall total advantage for the Democrats of only approximately 45,000 votes," he said.

He described that margin as "very scant" in a state with a population of more than 10 millions and with President Eisenhower off the ticket.

He renewed a prediction that Eisenhower will run again next year.

Progressive Women's Club Have Husbands As Guests

Saylorburg—Husbands' Night was successful Wednesday at the Progressive Woman's Club meeting, which was held at Chestnuthill auditorium in Brodheadsville. Mrs. Elmer Veety was in charge of a short business meeting. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Marvin Krome.

Mrs. Harry Weiss, chairman of the polo drive in the West End of the county, and Mrs. Grant Knowles, for the Saylorburg section, announced that $865.19 was collected for the polo drive. They are also chairmen for the Heart Fund, for which drive will be made this month. Volunteers were asked to help for this drive.

Mrs. Robert Arner, chairman of Valentine Dance, announced her committee. Mrs. Charles Arnold, Mrs. Clement Heist, Mrs. Val Robins and Mrs. Robert Altemose. Dance will be held at Chestnuthill Inn, 9 o'clock February 18, and is open to the public.

Mrs. Marvin Krome announced classes to be held at the General Hospital in East Stroudsburg, through the Public Health Nursing organization for expectant mothers and fathers, to start next week. Any one interested may contact Mrs. Krome for further information. The course will include six two-hour classes at a very nominal charge. Mrs. Veety announced that Miss Myrtle Applebaugh, Easton, would be the speaker at the March meeting. She is one of the 10 censors on the State board of censorship.

The meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Grant Knowles, who gave a short reading on "A Tip on Teaching Them to Drive," telling the conversation that takes place between driver (as the boy friend) and sweethearts, in comparison with that between the husband and wife. Mrs. Helen E. Heydrick, Philadelphia, who has been interested in family relationships for 35 years, was the speaker.

She had as her subject, "Art of Living Together." "It was the little things in life that make the trouble," she said. "You can sit on a mountain but you can't sit on a tack."

Other advice she gave included knowing, understanding and mixing with people. Fun and good humor makes for good laughs and does a lot of good. Appreciation is another tool for good living. The lack of it is dangerous, and too much is taken for granted.

She said "You must have faith in God, fellowmen and yourself. When you are down in the dump, do something good for someone else, don't go and buy yourself a new hat, or pity yourself. Never look for trouble, keep looking for success and you will find it. Learn to live with others and bring harmony."

Mrs. Heydrick's remarks were full of wit and humor. About 100 members and guests were present.

Hostesses were: Mrs. William Gould, Mrs. LeRoy Shupp, Mrs. Hayden Murphy, Mrs. Arlington Martin, Mrs. Carrie Felker, Mrs. Claude Motte, Mrs. William High, Mrs. Clair Sniffen, Mrs. Boyd Titus, Mrs. Laufer Stephens, Mrs. Neal Steigerwalt, Mrs. Stanley Harleman, Mrs. Alta Kenmerer, Mrs. Willard Kresge, Mrs. Harley Bond, Mrs. Charles Hendry, Mrs. John Rinker and Mrs. Walter Singer, served refreshments in the cafeteria. Tables were decorated with valentine decorations in red and white and candles for center pieces.

The March meeting will be

Miss Lark, Supt. Marcks Are Married

Miss Miriam Lark, vocational Homemaking Adviser in Monroe County, and Frederick A. Marcks, superintendent of schools in Nazareth, were married yesterday afternoon at 3:30 in the Salem Evangelical Reformed Church in Harrisburg.

Rev. Dr. E. O. Butkofsky performed the ceremony at the altar of the church. The ceremony was delayed an hour because of the severe snowstorm which paralyzed traffic around the state capital and which also cancelled plans for a dinner which Dr. Butkofsky had planned for them.

The bride wore a blue dress of small-figured print with a matching hat and coat. Her corsage was of white orchids with very small pink sweetheart roses.

Now snowbound in Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Marcks plan to return this weekend and will make their home at 366 Belvidere St., Nazareth.

Mrs. Marcks will return to her duties in the county school system on Monday and plans to continue working until Mr. Marcks' retirement. A graduate of Muhlenberg College with degrees from Lehigh and the University of Pennsylvania, Mr. Marcks has an outstanding record as an educator. The new high school in Nazareth is to be named the Frederick A. Marcks High School.

Students are chosen from the high schools in the counties of northeastern Pennsylvania. Approximately 150 vocalists will be taking part in this festival of excellent vocal talent. It is considered an achievement and an honor to be chosen as a member of this fine chorus.

The Northeast District Chorus will have as their guest conductor, Miss Leah Thorpe, Choral Director of the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore, Maryland. Miss Thorpe has the widely acclaimed reputation of being one of the best in her field of choral work.

There will be two evening concerts given at the Hanover Township High School. These concerts will be held on Friday night, February 18, and Saturday night, February 19. Miss Shultz is a senior commercial student at Polk Township High School, where she takes part in many activities including glee club, band, and cheerleader.

Mountains League To Settle Title

POCONO PINES — Stroudsburg Poconos and Lake Harmony will decide the first half championship in the Pocono Mountains Basketball League tonight here on the Tobyhanna High School court.

The Poconos and Lake Harmony completed the first half race this week with identical records of 10 wins and two defeats and finished in a two-way tie for the top spot in the standings.

Stroudsburg was granted a forfeit win over Barrett on Wednesday and then defeated Johnson's Diner on Thursday to the Lake Harmony, after the latter had completed its first half schedule on Monday.

Both teams are scheduled to go to the post with virtually the same lineups that have carried the bulk of the weight through the entire season, although Lake Harmony will have to play without Ronnie Ehring, who yesterday left for a special training camp being conducted by the Kansas City A's in Sanford, Fla., beginning on Monday.

The two first place occupants are scheduled to match abilities at 8:30 p.m.

Bagett and Williams' Pharmacy will clash in the preliminary encounter at 7:15 p.m.

Leslie Ruland of Edinboro moved up into second place as high average scorer with 22 points per game.

Dick Majernik of California, Roger Coovera of Kutztown, Jim Rich of West Chester and Duffy of Slippery Rock each have a 21-point per game average.

Overdose Of Sleeping Pills Brings Death To Ona Munson

NEW YORK. Feb. 11 (UPI)—Actress Ona Munson, 48, who came out of vaudeville to star in Hollywood and Broadway, killed herself today with an overdose of sleeping pills.

"This is the only way I know to be free again," she said in a note she left in her lavish eight-room apartment on W. 86th St.

Police said she had recently been despondent. They formally listed her death as apparent suicide.

A single pill remained in a bottle on a night stand in her bedroom. Her third husband, Eugene Berman, a painter and stage designer, found her dead in bed.

Born in Portland, Ore., Miss Munson started her career with Gus Edwards' vaudeville troupe. Her first legitimate stage role was in 1924 in a touring company of "No Other Girl."

She played the lead in the Philadelphia company of the musical "No, No, Nanette" and first appeared on Broadway in 1926 when she replaced Louise Grody as star of the New York company.

Miss Munson went to Hollywood in 1928. Highlight of her many movie roles was as Belle Watling in "Gone With the Wind." It gained her an Academy Award nomination.

During her career she also broadcast on radio.

Some of her old movies have

Soviets Deal In Misleading Information

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst
Soviet propagandists, following through on the prediction made in the Malenkov resignation statement, are accusing the West of sensationalizing and distorting their recent governmental shakeup.

It's doubtful if they themselves take it very seriously.

As always when important events occur behind a screen of secrecy, there has been a vast amount of speculation in the West about the meaning of the Soviet changes. Perhaps too much. It has approached the dimensions of a flop.

Governments have given out that they were surprised, and expressed inability to assess the new aspects of Soviet affairs, throwing the doors wide open to every imaginable theory.

As a matter of fact, close observers of Soviet affairs were surprised only in detail, not in general. Signs of trouble in the Kremlin have been appearing for some time. It was not a question of whether something would happen, but just what would happen. Nor is there any reason to think things are through happening. From the beginning it was clear that Malenkov was sitting only on the steps to the throne of Stalin, and government by committee has always been an extremely unstable thing.

Under the circumstances, there is a very great deal which wild speculation can do to help the Kremlin nabobs. All they have to do is to pick out, for public consumption at home, those speculations which Russians themselves can see are foolish, and then hammer away about the "lies" distributed by Mother Russia's enemies. It offers a ready-made distraction from whatever is really going on.

One speculation which this column omitted the other day in discussing the new military look at the Kremlin concerns Zhukov. It was suggested that his appointment as defense minister was a payoff by Khrushchev for support in the latter's rise to power, rather than as recognition of army influence. It also may be that Zhukov, so roundly hated by the Germans for his leadership of the plundering, raping hordes of 1945, is being added to the Red propaganda that rearmament of Germany means a big new war.)

The Reds, of course, have only themselves to blame about any misinterpretation of their actions or policies abroad. Even in their most forthright moments they talk a brand of dialectic doubletalk which no other human beings can understand. At their worst, as when Malenkov pleads inexperience after an exceptional record as an administrator during the war, they obviously are dissembling.

"Disinformation," the misleading of foreign observers, is an important strategy of the Russians and a constant objective of her intelligence service.

Joint School To Apply For Federal Aid

NEWFOUNDLAND — The Greene-Dreher-Sterling Joint School Board will make application for Federal assistance under provisions of Public Law 874, Homer Gilpin, president of the board, has announced.

The law, passed by the 81st Congress, provides financial assistance to school districts having added financial burdens because real property was acquired by the Federal government thereby reducing tax sources, because parents of children attending school reside on Federal property and because parents of children attending school work on Federal property.

The local board is filing under the provisions of the last mentioned, claiming burdens created by the increased student enrollment as a result of the opening of the Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

The law provides that the Federal government will pay one-quarter of the state cost per pupil, about $260, for all pupils whose parents work at the depot. Based on this cost ratio, the Greene-Dreher-Sterling jointure will receive approximately $1105 in additional funds for the year 1953-54.

In the case of GDS, the purpose of the law operates like this: The parents of 17 students at the school are employed at the depot. Before its establishment and the subsequent influx of new families to the area, the joint school district operated its program on a fixed budget determined by the number of taxables within the three districts of the jointure.

However, with the advent of the depot and the arrival of new families to the area, the jointure was forced to expand its operations on the fixed budget, which was not geared for expansion.

Russia Charges Distortions In Reporting Malenkov Ouster

MOSCOW, Feb. 11 (AP)—The Soviet press said today the American, British and French press used "distortions" and "sensational, vociferous headlines" in reporting the downfall of Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and other actions of the Supreme Soviet this week.

Pravda, official newspaper of the Soviet Communist party, and other central papers devoted a full page of their rationed space to foreign reactions to the events.

The newspapers accused the Western press of filling their pages with "slanders and inventions about Soviet happenings."

"British, American and French papers do not dare comment on the main points of Molotov's report, particularly on charges in the international situation and especially the postwar creation of a people's democratic camp," said Pravda and other papers.

"They also keep silent on that portion of Molotov's report stressing Lenin's principle of coexistence

"Ryan wrote his comment on Molotov's report into a boiled-down version of nervous attacks and gross distortions of the policy of the Soviet Union."

The same articles assailed the New York Herald-Tribune, as in reality "exposing the real aims and methods of the increasing defense—that is, military—measures of the United States."

American journalists in general were accused of cooking up "tendentious" reports of the happenings by taking them out of context.
